

Join us in shaping the future of the automotive industry at Concepto!

Do you have experience in automotive quality and would like to put your skills to work in an exciting new business activity?

To strengthen our team, we are looking for a:

Quality Project Manager - (Automotive)

For more than 20 years, Concepto Watch Factory has been a specialist in high-end watchmaking. We are now expanding our expertise into the luxury automotive sector.

We are looking for an experienced Project Quality Manager to help establish this new business activity and ensure that our products meet the highest quality standards of the automotive industry.

Reporting directly to the Department Manager, you will act as the quality reference for our automotive customers and projects.

You will work closely with engineering, production, logistics and supplier teams, from development through to series production.

Your responsibilities:

- Lead all quality activities for automotive projects, from development through to production.
- Translate customer requirements into robust quality processes and documentation.
- Manage product and process approval activities (APQP/PPAP or VDA/PPA), ensuring compliance with customer requirements.
- Lead quality planning activities, including DFMEA, PFMEA, Control Plans and validation plans.
- Support R&D and industrialization teams to ensure that products and processes meet automotive requirements.
- Lead customer and supplier audits and ensure effective follow-up of corrective actions.
- Contribute to the implementation and industrialization of a dedicated production line.
- Act as the primary quality contact for customers, suppliers and internal stakeholders.

Requirements:

- Education: Engineering degree or equivalent technical qualification.
- Experience: Minimum 5 years of experience in automotive quality, quality engineering or quality project management.
- Technical skills: Strong knowledge of APQP/PPAP or VDA/PPA, FMEA, Control Plans, as well as automotive customer requirements.
- Languages: Fluent English. Good knowledge of French is an advantage.

You are autonomous, pragmatic and comfortable working in a developing and rapidly growing environment.

What do we offer:

- The unique opportunity to help establish and develop a new automotive business activity within a renowned Swiss watchmaking company.
- A key role with significant responsibilities, a high degree of autonomy and strong visibility.
- A direct impact on strategy, quality systems and the success of our customers.
- A dynamic, high-quality environment combining automotive excellence with Swiss expertise in precision, design and manufacturing.
- Competitive compensation and attractive employment conditions.

If you feel that your profile matches the requirements above, join our team and contribute to our expansion into the luxury automotive sector while helping create exceptional products.
